Les,

In light of the conversation this afternoon with Arun and Michael, I recommend you communicate to the Minister's Chief of Staff your risk/threat analysis (or this communication to the Minister's CoS being done by RCMP or HoC Sargent at Arms?). May I ask that you simply copy Jimmy and I on emails communicating risk/threats to the Minister?

Thank you – Merci – Ninaskomitin – Miigwech – ᓇᑦᑦᑦᑦ (Nakurmik) – Maarsii

Information: Unclassified

The following information relates to a planned demonstration in Ottawa on 28-29 January 2022. Updates will continue to be provided next week as information changes/becomes available.

Overview:

- Currently there are three (3) convoys – West, East and South;
- The South convoy is expected to be the largest and includes Windsor, Sarnia, Niagara and Barrie;
- The convoys are expected to meet in Toronto, come down the 401 on 27 Jan and stop in Kingston;
- They will arrive in Amprior to stage on 28 Jan;
- On 29 Jan, all convoys will try to get in to Ottawa for noon;
- They will slow traffic downtown, but not block;
- Their arrival is expected to have a major impact on city traffic; and,
- The intention is to hold a peaceful demonstration and there is no indication of hostility.

Additional Information:

- Related demonstrations have already started to occur across Canada
- Manitoba
 - On 19 Jan, a group of truck drivers demonstrated at the US-Manitoba international border, blocking the highway and slowing traffic.
- Ontario:
 - On 23 Jan, a demonstration is planned outside Sarnia near the Canada's Border Crossing (report from TC) with the goal to slow down traffic.
 - The South convoy, anticipated to be the largest cohort, will leave on 27 Jan from Windsor, Ont.
- British Columbia:
 - The West convoy, dubbed "The Convey For Freedom 2022 ", is set to leave B.C. on 23 Jan.
- Quebec:
 - On 28 Jan, trucks from numerous border crossings between Canada and the United States will come down Highway 40 in Vaudreuil, west of Montreal, to arrive in Ottawa by noon.
- Atlantic provinces:
 - The East convoy is to begin on 27 Jan in Enfield, Nova Scotia.
